

Python Developer Python Developer Python Developer - EcoHealth Alliance New York, NY I'm looking for a challenging role as a Lead Python Developer. I enjoy working alone or in teams. I'm looking for a company focused in non-profits or healthcare, but I'm also open to other sectors. Work Experience Python Developer EcoHealth Alliance July 2014 to Present Developed applications using Python and MySQL for database design Created test cases during two week sprints using agile methodology Designed data visualization to present current impact and growth Developed Natural Language Processing and Machine Learning Systems Python Developer KCG Holdings, Inc October 2012 to June 2014 Worked with the Quantitative & Systematic team Debugging, and improving daily execution to ensure data is accurate and ready for trading Built new workflows to gather data into one place Created prototypes and strategic solutions with trading and business analysts Framework built with Python and SQL Education Provided maintenance and development of bug fixes and patch sets for releases Education Ph.D in Computer Science Northeastern University September 2009 to June 2012 B.S. in Economics, and Politics Claremont McKenna College September 2006 to June 2009

Name: Kevin Hill

Email: edavies@example.com

Phone: (792)240-5211