Print and Mail - Provo, UT August 2018 to Present Work as a part-time student developer. Our work environment is more like a dev ops environment than a traditional set up. Developers are usually stronger in certain skills, but each developer is expected to write code for both front end and back end. I helped convert several applications from legacy apps to web based apps. One app is currently used by students at BYU to enable mail forwarding. My app has saved hundreds of hours of manual data entry each semester. Volunteer Missionary The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints - Taipei, Taiwan August 2016 to August 2018 I served the people of Taiwan and taught them Christian messages. I am fluent in Mandarin Chinese and while I was serving as a full time missionary, I learned how to develop applications/websites. One of the websites I made was visited by over 100k Taiwanese people in the span of two months. I also went from not knowing any HTML to writing a single paged application in Vue JS in one month. Education Associate in
