Groups Oklahoma Fighting Game Community October 2016 to Present The Oklahoma Fighting Game Community is a tight-knit group of individuals dedicated to growing our local scene through a shared passion of fighting games. We gather bi-weekly to compete in tournaments run by our own community and stream these tournaments on twitch. Gamers of the University of Central Oklahoma October 2014 to May 2017 The Gamers of UCO was developed in 2014 as a way to gather students who have a shared hobby of gaming. When I was elected Vice President in 2015, I helped grow the local Fighting Game Community through my platform and was able to connect individuals who had a passion for fighting games in our area. Publications I May be Slower, but I Can Out-Finesse You Absolute Battle s Newest Challenger, MomGotThemHands, Talks Age, Gender, and Relationships in the FGC <https://ext0pd0ll.wordpress.com/2017/08/26/i-may-be-slower-but-i-can-out-finesse-you-absolute-battles-newest-challenger-momgotthemhands-talks-age-gender-and-relationships-in-the-fgc/> 2017-08 Michelle Kennedy, known now in the FGC by her tag Mom Got Them Hands, sat down with me for a short interview that turned into an in-depth discussion on women in gaming, parent-child bonding, and the social stigma of gaming as a hobby. Her answers were certainly thought-provoking, and I thoroughly enjoyed learning about her experience in the fighting game world. Kizzie Kay: The anime community is more brother-based... but what I like about the Capcom side is its rivalry and fire <https://www.eventhubs.com/news/2017/sep/27/kizzie-kay-anime-community-more-brother-based-capcom-side-has-lot-rivalry-and-fire/> 2017-09 As a fan of traditional fighters who lacks a genuine interest in the anime genre, I wanted to experience an event solely dedicated to these titles for myself. CEOtaku 2017 proved to be the perfect opportunity for this venture.
