

Lead Database Administrator Lead Database Administrator Atlanta, GA Authorized to work in the US for any employer Work Experience Lead Database Administrator The Home Depot - Atlanta, GA April 2012 to Present Responsibilities

Review physical database structures using complex technical skills based on physical design for development, test, and production environments.

Responsible for complex database performance tuning, security, database backup/recovery strategy, and implementing monitoring procedures to maximize availability of the database.

Mentoring and training of other database administrators, managing task assignments for associate database administrators, reviewing work and providing input to Manager. Implement monitoring procedures to maximize availability and performance of the database, while meeting defined targets.

Provide consultation to application development teams on DBMS product technical issues, techniques and SQL review. Coordinate with system engineers to configure servers for DBMS product installation and complex database creation. Configure and maintain DBMS product software on complex database and application servers. Education BS in COMPUTER SCIENCE University of Jordan - Amman 1989 to 1993

Name: Keith Branch

Email: dawn83@example.org

Phone: 903.848.1582x051