Web Designer / Front End Developer Web Designer / Front End Developer Web designer / Front-End developer New York, NY Hi! My name is Alex and I love web design. I want to find a team for web development and put my skills into practice. My goal in web design is to achieve a high level in design and be able to qualify in order to set trends in web design.   I can design responsive websites, relying on my analysis of the target audience of the client. When developing, I use Adobe Photoshop.   I can also make websites on my own or someone else's design. When layout I work with HTML5, CSS3, JS, Jquery, Bootstrap and more. If necessary, quickly delve into new standards and technologies. Make-up of the site based on SEO and W3C standards. Familiar with micro marking. I try to write beautiful code.
