Software Developer Software Developer Orange, CA Authorized to work in the US for any employer

Work Experience Software Developer Giesecke+Devrient - Stockholm August 2015 to Present Working on Over-the-Air (OTA) management software that designed to provide mobile network operators with an improved understanding of their subscribers and efficient management of the SIM cards, terminals, and mobile applications on their networks, such as CSN (Connectivity Service Network) platform. CSN that is OTA solutions for secure and reliable SIM card management, provide platform for operators to communicate with SIM cards and run tasks toward SIMs like activate a subscription, load java applets on SIM or updating a file on SIM. Working in an agile environment closely with the product owner, scrum master and other developers and testers in a scrum team. At times, interact directly with customers to troubleshoot an issue or to discuss a new product requirement. Analyze requirements, design and implement new features and system requirements in a server application. Control and ensure quality of the delivered artifacts with test-driven development, regular code reviews and CI. Software Developer Ericsson - Stockholm November 2012 to July 2015 Design, implement, engineering , test and refactoring software in cross functional team within an agile organization. Scalable and high available product, enterprise backend, frontend using Java technologies. Working in different projects include web services, voice applications and standalone java applications. Java is the main language, unit test mainly in JUnit, function test tools like puretest, design environment mainly in Linux. Education Master's in Information and Communication Systems Security KTH Royal Institute of Technology - Stockholm August 2010 to 2012 Skills Software Development, Java, Microservices, Agile, Web Services, Git Links https://www.linkedin.com/in/parisad/

Name: Scott Ibarra

Email: jeremypaul@example.net

Phone: 001-603-363-9327x04590