Web developer Web developer Web developer - SYSPRO San Diego, CA Web developer or a commercial software application developer position that utilizes my experienced in hands-on the development and system analysis. I enjoy the challenge of latest technology with a can do attitude.

Work Experience Web developer SYSPRO February 2005 to Present Admin SYSPRO 2007 to 2010 to created multi base reseller templates sites. Created the portal sales reports system. Developed the XML interface between CRM, Marketo and other custom systems. Implemented Microsoft share-point 2007 and 2010 included custom programming module. Created land pages on the websites to capture visit information. Managed the regional and main corporate website. Developed auto generated web pages for site. Created web applications run on IOS and Android system. 2 -3 Contract Web developer Ktdynamic, Inc December 2002 to February 2005 Program maintaining clients' web sites from Ecommerce solutions, Email marketing, and custom prepaid phone card systems. I have worked with clients at the beginning stage from an idea until their web site launched. I have assisted in the design front end, build database backend, and create custom programming in ASP, ASP.NET, Linux, PHP, Store procedure, ADO, ADO.NET, testing and implement clients' web sites. Below are the web sites that I have involved and supported: www.vietnam84.com www.vipthenetwork.com www.ktdynamic.com www.chauthuy.com www.vietlifemagazine.com www.tidoor.com www.wireless011.com www.nguoitinhonline.com www.phonevietnam.com Lead software developer Pfastship Logistic Inc November 1996 to December 2002 Commercial Shipping system: The purpose for this application is to provide high volumes for warehouse packing and shipping with multi carriers modules like UPS, FedEx, FedEx Ground, USPS Postal, Airborne, and LTL. Manifest to the all carriers specification and send EDI at end of the day. The reports are generating to carrier specification, VICS's bill of landing and UPS's international documents. Database design and implement of the back-end tier with SQL 7 and SQL 2000. Thin client and server using Microsoft win-sock protocol. Certified in programming the UPS PLD version 7 manifests and FedEx rating server engine. A member of a team to oversee the architectural design of the system, programming and implementation of the leading commercial shipping software package, user interface, client site using DLL, win-sock protocol, and business side object utilizing the following technologies: Visual Basic, RDS, ADO, MTS, SQL OLEDB and ODBC. Network and Applications Consultant NetTek Inc July 1994 to November 1996 I worked for a small consultant firm building LAN from the ground up and writing custom applications for clients. The application functioned as time tracking the employees on the vendor projects. Building PC hardware systems from swatch, run network wires, load soft wares and configuring the Microsoft NT server, Microsoft exchange server and Microsoft IIS server.   Certified in training setting up the Microsoft LAN and WAN networking. Senior Programmer D&B June 1985 to July 1994 Duns and Bradstreet   I worked under division of Donnelley Information Publishing in southern California. I have assumed a role of senior programmer in design and development for several in- 3 -3   house system applications. I supported all in-house applications, system included mainframe accounting package and over 350 IBM-3270 personal computer machines.   Developed front-end database system to access an IBM-3090 mainframe, System 36, System 38 and AS400 corporate computers. Implemented 25 sales offices sites.   (YPLS) Yellow Pages Layout System: The system combines special encode in the text line that flow the data onto the page layout send direct to printer. (ISMS) Information Sales Management System: It is a sales management tool and enables top manager to easily forecast sales (both plan and outlook), create reports, and   process the requesting salesmen bonus plan from mainframe data to personal computer.   Certified in accounts receivable and accounts payable mainframe NOMAD module.   System development utilizing the following technologies from IBM mainframe, IBM mini system and personal computer: Dbase, API function, MVS, CICS, JCL, VSAM, COBOL, S3090, RPG, SYS38, AS400, PC, Novell 3.12. Education B.S. in Computer Science Americus University 1985 Additional Information Over 29 years as a software programmer in Strong skills in relational database design web sites and commercial software and system data flow design. packages likes web Ecommerce, Telco Developing windows applications and system, Accounting, Shipping, Warehouse, COM/DOM server components Sales ordering systems and etc   Using MTS, Windows SDK, Windows Web site architecture and development in API, Visual Basic, C#, VB.NET, ADO, high scalability n-tier architecture utilizing   ADO.NET, Java, ODBC, JDBC, Crystal Visual Basic, VBScript, ASP,

ASP.NET, Reports, MySql, Microsoft SQL 7, SQL ADO.NET, XML, HTML, Java, Java 2000 and SQL 2008 scripts, Microsoft SQL, CSS, Flash MX and Crystal Reports. Apply object-oriented methodology in In-depth knowledge in PC hardware, LAN software design and coding. and WAN networking Advanced working knowledge with Integrate client/shipping database by Microsoft NT, 2000, XP and Linus. conversions using CVS or fix length. Knowledge with JD Edward One World accounting package and SAP, also in dept of Adapt CRM and SYSPRO ERP.

Name: Steven Bell

Email: martinandrew@example.com

Phone: 591-733-4457x74061