Software Developer Software Developer Software Developer Work Experience Software Developer April 2019 to September 2019 take over Earth? Let's not wait to find out. An immersive six month bootcamp, with a focus on collaborative learning, and hands-on problem solving. Orbit is an application that enthusiasts can use to prepare for an alien invasion. Pack a virtual survival pack, share theories with Technologies: HTML5 CSS3 JAVASCRIPT REACT C# .NET other users, and find transportation out of an invaded city. Orbit is my first individual EXPERIENCE IN: React application, and building it taught me a lot about data relationships, state Object-oriented programming management, and routing. Translating requirements into appropriate technical designs, and breaking down assignments into manageable tasks and schedule estimates React.js, Reactstrap, Firebase, Identifying the root of bugs and providing solutions, often coming in the form of refactoring processes in a Google Geocode & Public more streamlined way Transit APIs Modular software development   Application design through white-boarding dependencies and building Entity Relationship Diagrams ABOUT ME Utilizing React.js to create sleek, user-friendly single page applications Software development checks all of the Asynchronous applications, utilizing JSON to send and retrieve data boxes on my list of "things I want in a career." Having recently graduated with a Working with data from REST APIs music degree from Belmont University, I Operating in group work environment, including daily stand-up meetings, regular communication, task started taking online coding course for management, and source code version control with GitHub. fun. The excitement it gave me turned into a commitment to pursue development GROUP PROJECTS: full time. Coding has changed the way that I problem solve in the real world, and has Front End made me a firm believer in the power of Created two versions of a one page social media application called Nutshell. Nutshell includes task manager, consistent, challenging, mental event planner, and message board functionality. stimulation. It's a privilege to get to open Nutshell 1.0 github.com/emilyloggins/nutshell-vanilla-js my laptop and create everyday.   Built using vanilla Javascript and Bootstrap. Individually responsible for building the task feature.   Nutshell 2.0 github.com/emilyloggins/nutshell-react EDUCATION Built using React and ReactStrap component library in four days. Planned as a group to create a vision for Nashville Software School 2019 achieving CRUD functionality in a user-friendly way. Individually responsible for user authentication.

Full Stack Web Development Bootcamp Back End Manager Climb Nashville June 2018 to June 2019 Lead the desk staff by delegating tasks and holding employees accountable 404.375.2921 Maintained an uplifting environment while still prioritizing safety for guests and staff emilyloggins1@gmail.com Resolved guest conflicts linkedin.com/in/emilyloggins Managed three cash drawers and successfully counted and transferred daily funds into the safe. Desk Staff April 2018 to May 2018 In charge of keeping the facility clean throughout the day and before closing. Interacted with customers in the form of giving safety orientations, recommending climbing gear, and selling day passes Trestlebridge Farms 2014 to 2018 The team inherited a C# code base, and was tasked with refactoring and building upon it to create a fully Bachelor of Music functional console application. The application handles resource purchasing and field capacity management.

Name: Courtney Gonzalez

Email: taylormarilyn@example.com

Phone: (599)481-2092x74663