Database Administrator Database Administrator Database Administrator - Epsilon Saratoga Springs, NY Work Experience Database Administrator Epsilon - East Greenbush, NY June 2003 to Present East Greenbush, NY June 2003-present   www.Epsilon.com   Epsilon is a database marketing provider providing extensive services to the retail and catalog mailer. This includes merge/purge technology and scoring based targeting on consumer purchasing activity.   Database Administrator   Oracle Database 11g Administrator Certified Associate   Install, configure and maintain approximately 30 Oracle database instances running 11g/12c EE/SE1/SE2.   Install, configure and maintain Oracle EC2 AWS databases, including Oracle Secure Backup and database encryption. 12c OEM installation and configuration.   Coordinate with database developers to design and implement table and tablespace structures.   Develop backup and recovery plans using RMAN and DataPump.   Troubleshoot and resolve poor performing end user queries using OEM/Statspack. Create and maintain users, roles, privileges and other areas of database security.   Oracle instance performance tuning on virtual machines and bare metal hosts.   Create and maintain documentation pertaining to instance changes, server specifications and user licensing.   Troubleshoot and resolve internal and external client issues.   Senior Database Analyst   Development and execution of data exploration and discovery processes, including ETL for companies largest relational database build client   Development of database builds and updates applications   Development of database builds and updates processes and flows   Development and production of data audits and reports Preparation of postal formatting, from raw data files, for high volume mailings. USPS guidelines and software are used in-house   Maintain data integrity through quality control checking Web Systems Administrator Reserve America - Ballston Spa, NY 1999 to 2003   Globally extended Reserve America's web portal: www.ReserveAmerica.com/www.ReserveUSA.com. The current design was located in the NY office, which I duplicated to the CA site. This insures the maximum uptime for all of Reserve America's web channels. The configuration is load balanced between offices, and offers the end user a real-time inventory, selection and payment   Develop an AFS open source network consisting of server and client machines. The network hosted all website content and active pages Install and configure a monitoring system for all webserver machines. Critical system activity is reported to a portable device   Manage connectivity between websites and databases running various J2EE/WebSphere-based applications   Foundry switches are used in the multi-tiered DMZ environment. These allow access to private pages used by the client, as well as load balance the twenty web servers   Specify and recommend changes to firewall configuration   Jr. Database Administrator   Migrating large production databases from a Solaris platform to Linux   Extensive experience of installing, configuring, tuning and maintaining Linux and Solaris systems   Developing and maintaining system documentation and scheduled task databases using Lotus Notes/Designer software. The forms are used for documenting, and completing the System Technicians daily system health monitoring   Performance tuning on production database servers in a client/server environment   Using the Veritas Volume Manager for monitoring disk and table activity   Constructing queries and stored procedures using the Informix Structured Query Language tool   Gather reporting data of critical system metrics. This includes the developing of a system which displays physical disk usage across all database servers, using open source software and Perl scripts   Create and implement backup and recovery plans for production equipment. Database and file systems are archived to tape, and sent to an off-site facility everyday   Create and maintain database roles and user groups for all internal users   Statistics   Record of all call center activity, including: call statistics, agent activity and transactions for all of the Reserve America contracts. Calculation of activity positive transactions and results in an agent-reward and project pay programs.

  Weekly reports to the call center manager, comparing statistics on a weekly basis. Reports include past and projected future sales.   Create, update and maintain a weekly schedule for approximately 480 employees Education Certification Oracle University 2014 Computer Science Schenectady County Community College - Troy, NY 2001 General Studies Hudson Valley Community College - Troy, NY 1999 Skills DATABASE (10+ years), ORACLE (10+ years), RELATIONAL DATABASE (10+ years), LINUX (4 years), PERL (4 years), Oracle Dba, DBA Certifications/Licenses Oracle Certified Associate Present Additional Information Areas of Expertise   * Oracle Database Administration * Strategic Planning and Execution * Project Management * Direct Response and Traditional TV, Radio, Print * Relational Database Build   Technical Skills   * Oracle 10g/11g *

Linux * UNIX * IBM WebSphere * Perl/Bash/Korn Shell * Microsoft Office Products including VISIO

Name: Michael Gonzalez

Email: richardwilkins@example.net

Phone: 710.847.3454